

ABSTRACT

An accessory item for a shoe comprising an anchor configured to removably attach to the foot, ankle or leg of a wearer, and a decorative article affixed to the anchor,
5 the decorative article configured to mount to the anchor to enable the decorative article to appear integrated with a first portion of a shoe worn by the wearer. The same shoe may be interchangeably accessorized with multiple shoe accessories and multiple locations on the shoe either simultaneously or individually. The shoe accessory may be used to accessorize different shoes.
